

10 April 2007: AusSMC Briefing on IPCC AR4- Working Group 2 Report:

“Climate Change 2007: Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability”

Dr Roger Jones is Principal Research Scientist with CSIRO Marine and Atmospheric Research and a Coordinating Lead Author for Chapter 2 on new methods and characterisation of the future.

Bio Note

Roger joined CSIRO in 1996 to develop and implement methods for assessing the risks of climate change. These methods have been used in Australia and overseas and have contributed to the National Climate Change Adaptation Framework and the United Nations Development Program Adaptation Policy Frameworks. They are also being used by researchers in a number of countries.

He recently contributed to the CSIRO report to the Australian Greenhouse Office and National Water Commission on Climate change and Australian water resources.
